

iWebKit⁵

PRESS RELEASE

Utrecht February 5, 2010

WebKit 5 is now available!

Today iWebKit 5 has been made available as a free download. iWebKit is a framework used to create websites and web applications that are optimized for apple's mobile products. The framework allows users with little programming experience and within a short time period to create professional looking websites the iPod Touch, iPhone and even the iPad.

This new version is a major update with not only new features but also a brand new core. Thanks to the use of experimental css3 iWebKit sites now load up to three times faster than before.

Because iWebKit's popularity is increasing quickly we are looking for developers who want to participate in further development of the framework. We have a clear vision for iWebKit and that is preserving the ease of use for our users. Are you looking for a fun hobby just send us an e-mail! More information can be found on our website.
